name was on the authorization card at the time A. Giraudo filed the card with the Irrigation District. Subsequent to the filing of the card Giraudo obtained the card from the Irrigation District and when it was produced at the trial this authorization card for the withdrawal of water bore the name of K. Ota as well as A. Giraudo.

The Irrigation District claimed the authorization card did not bear the name of K. Ota at the time it was originally filed. The plaintiff A. Giraudo claimed the card did bear the name K. Ota at the time it was originally filed and that the card was all written at the same time, and presented several witnesses to support this contention.

J. Clark Sellers, well known Los Angeles Criminologist and Handwriting Expert, who claims that a proper interpretation of physical facts will often point the way to truth when so called direct witnesses are mistaken or commit perjury, was called to examine the document and he testified that the name K. Ota had been written on the authorization card recently and was not on the card at the time the document was dated Aug. 27, 1924.

Mr. Sellers in support of his opinion exhibited greatly enlarged photographs to the Court showing a different pen had been used and that the ink in the name K. Ota had not dried out to the same extent as the other writing on the card. Then by the aid of a special comparison microscope Mr. Sellers demonstrated in Court that the green ink with which the name K. Ota was written was a different shade to that of the green ink on the balance of the card.

Judge Shaw rendered the decision in favor of the defense having been convinced K. Ota's name was not on the card at the time it was originally filed.

Ink Expert Makes Court Demonstration

Superior Judge Hartley Shaw of Los Angeles sitting at El Centro, rendered a decision last Friday, March 12th, in favor of the Imperial Irrigation District in a suit brought against it for some $6,000.00 by A. Giraudo, for refusing to deliver water to her agent K. Ota by the Irrigation District.

The main question for the Court to decide was whether or not K. Ota's name was on the authorization card at the time A. Giraudo filed the card with the Irrigation District. Subsequent to the filing of the card Giraudo obtained the card from the Irrigation District and when it was produced at the trial this authorization card for the withdrawal of water bore the name of K. Ota as well as A. Giraudo.

The Irrigation District claimed the authorization card did not bear the name of K. Ota at the time it was originally filed. The plaintiff A. Giraudo claimed the card did bear the name K. Ota at the time it was originally filed and that the card was all written at the same time, and presented several witnesses to support this contention.

J. Clark Sellers, well known Los Angeles Criminologist and Handwriting Expert, who claims that a proper interpretation of physical facts will often point the way to truth when so called direct witnesses are mistaken or commit perjury, was called to examine the document and he testified that the name K. Ota had been written on the authorization card recently and was not on the card at the time the document was dated Aug. 27, 1924.

Mr. Sellers in support of his opinion exhibited greatly enlarged photographs to the Court showing a different pen had been used and that the ink in the name K. Ota had not dried out to the same extent as the other writing on the card. Then by the aid of a special comparison microscope Mr. Sellers demonstrated in Court that the green ink with which the name K. Ota was written was a different shade to that of the green ink on the balance of the card.

Judge Shaw rendered the decision in favor of the defense having been convinced K. Ota's name was not on the card at the time it was originally filed.

Dear Sir:

Will you kindly inform me where the purported Will of Mrs. Jones was found and by whom, and where the money was found and by whom.

I should also like to know what a copy of the testimony at the coroner's inquest would cost.

Are you holding the money in your own name or has it been deposited in a bank in the name of the Estate of Louise Jones ?

An early reply will greatly oblige.

Yours very truly,

Edna Ashley

Dec. 22nd, 1919.

Messrs. W. D. Harris & Sons,
107 Main Street,
Grass Valley, Cal.

Gentlemen:

Mr. Sigel R. Jones was appointed as administrator of the estate of Louise Jones on Dec. 18th, and notice of creditors is now being run in the Salinas Daily Index.

I herewith enclose a claim against said estate, which I wish you would sign and swear to before a notary public and return to me and I will have the administrator and the Court allow the same, so that the bill may be paid out of the estate. As soon as it is allowed I will advise you and forward you a certified copy of the letters of administration and you can forward to Mr. Jones in my care a check for the balance after taking out the amount of the claim, together with receipt for the amount of the claim.

Yours very truly,

Edwin Ayres

Body done me money
The money I got $9
made on Playing poker and the money I got on me I took to England and Brought Back Again I never drew any money the man
just me money
paper when I got to Nevada City and I never read it and they drew me in
I am sorry to end it all - they have wronged me. I should never been here if I knowed
I would suddenly told me but can see it brought what fellow was thieving me or who board and I been awaked all the time. I don't know what the trouble is nobody told me anything I never stole no money I earned all mine what I worked for playing parlors among Williams James Martins good by my darling Alice

This happened good Boy all good wish what letter of me
after finding the truth

S. J. M.

Convent of the Good Shepherd
St Louis, Jan. 31st 1921

Mr Thomas M. Harris.

Dear Sir,

We received your letter of January 10th and have since endeavored to trace up the family of J. J. Stack but with no success. We did have a child here by that name about that time but she left — years ago and we have heard nothing from her since.

Regretting that we can give you no data I remain

Yours respectfully
Sisters of the Good Shepherd

J. Clark Sellers

Criminologist

Dear Mr. Harris:

You often come in contact with cases--such as those described on the inside pages--which require exhaustive, intelligent, scientific investigation.

Perhaps the case may concern a questioned document--a possible forgery--or an anonymous letter. Or perhaps the case is shrouded in mystery.

When your advice is asked, I will count it an invaluble personal favor if you will be kind enough to tell whoever is in charge of the case about the kind of service I render.

On the inside pages these unusual services are described in detail. I believe you will find them interesting reading.

Then I will be deeply indebted to you if you will pass this letter on to someone you know who is in need of such help--or if you will file this letter until the need arises.

Thank you,

J. Clark Sellers

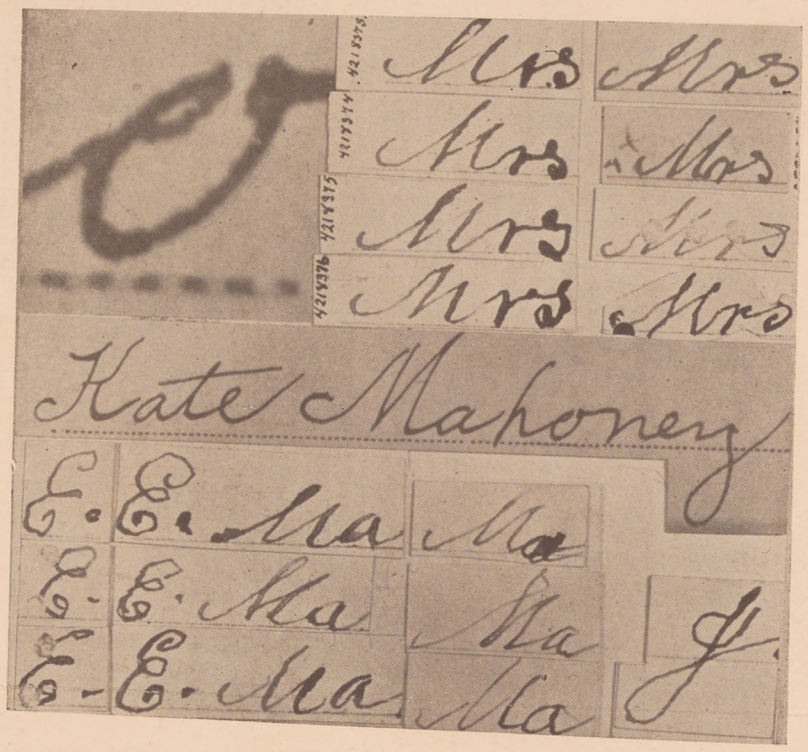
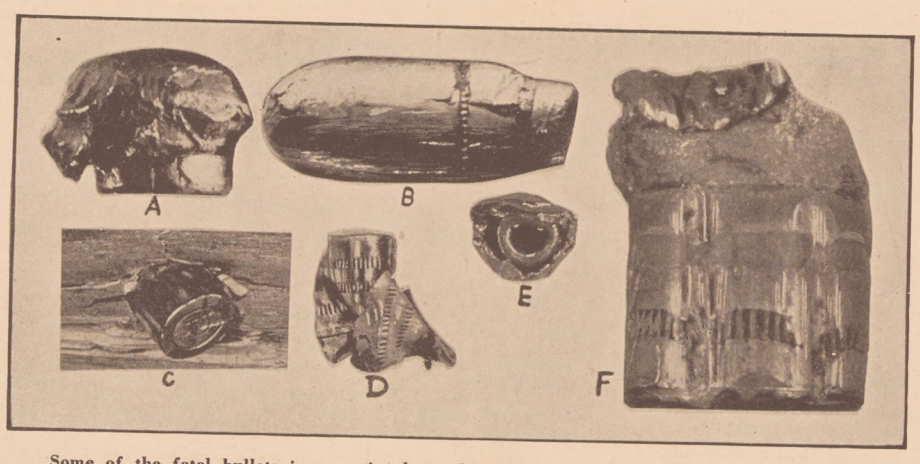
The writer of this letter had attempted to disguise his handwriting. But with the aid of microscopes, chemicals, and other scientific paraphernalia, J. Clark Sellers was quickly able to establish the writer's identity.

BELOW: Handwriting evidence which proved forgery, prepared for case of State of Washington vs. J. E. Mahoney, who was found guilty of wife murder, and his sister Dolly Johnson, who was found guilty of forgery.



The large "O" is a micro photograph of the "o" in the forged signature below. The four center "Mrs" are forgeries on Travelers' Checks—the four opposite are genuine. The three "e's" and "Ma's" to the left are forgeries—to the right are genuine. The "J" is forged.



Some of the fatal bullets in sensational murder cases. These bullets told a graphic story when examined in Sellers' laboratory and were used as incriminating evidence.

Criminals are always seeking new prey. You may be singled out today to receive a blackmail letter. How will you protect yourself? You may receive a paper which you suspect is altered or forged. How can you tell? You may be accused of a crime through circumstantial evidence. How can you prove your innocence?

In such cases you need the services of an experienced criminologist and scientific investigator. Not the ordinary detective—you will need a man of extraordinary intelligence—a man who can reconstruct a crime from insignificant clues. A man who can get the necessary evidence quickly and present it convincingly in court.

This folder, written by an admirer and protege, is to introduce you to such a man—J. Clark Sellers. The remarkable work of this man entitles him to a place among the leading criminologists. He is an admitted authority on crime. His solutions to baffling mysteries have been almost uncanny. And the services of this famed investigator—who has been retained by the U. S. Government, by District Attorneys, Prosecuting Attorneys, Sheriffs, Chiefs of Police, Banks, Insurance Companies and Lawyers everywhere—are now available to you.

How You Can Use the Sellers Service

In cases of Burglary, Suspected Embezzlement, Kidnapping, Assault, Suspected Persons, Missing or Tampered Papers, Blackmail, Arson, Stolen Goods, Murder or Suicide, False Accusations, Suspected Perjury—or similar need—call upon Mr. Sellers at his Los Angeles office.

Mr. Sellers will promptly take up your case. He will bring the latest scientific methods of crime detection to your aid. With his organization extending all over the country, Mr. Sellers can render exceptional service. Here are some typical examples of his work:

Bank Director's Forgery Proved

J. A. Lauer, a director of the Payette National Bank, was charged with forging names of fictitious persons to

Some Day You Will

There are many cases in every legal office where the need is felt for more and better evidence. Ordinary detective work usually gets only ordinary evidence. But the employment of a skilled specialist of proven ability means that every clue will be analyzed and every possible device of science utilized in gaining the necessary information.

Baffling crimes—unsolved for years—have been unraveled by Sellers and his associates with their scientific means of crime detection. But most of their work is of a less exciting but equally important nature. They examine papers to discover alterations. Then by enlarged photographs they prove their discoveries to judge and jury in a way much more effective than mere verbal evidence.

These enlarged photographs have been admitted in all courts as evidence in cases of disputed handwriting, typewriting, paper and inks.

notes which he presented to the bank. He was convicted largely upon testimony given by J. Clark Sellers who proved, by means of enlarged handwriting charts and microphotographs, that Lauer signed the fake notes. Sellers was called into the case by Col. E. G. Davis, U. S. District Attorney for Idaho.

Anonymous Typewriting Identified

Obscene letters were mailed to a young woman. In Federal court Mr. Sellers proved that the letters were written on a typewriter owned by the accused. On this evidence the suspect was found guilty.

To the expert, every typewriter has pecular characteristics which enables identification of the typewriting and even of the person who did the writing. In the Witthoft case, Sellers testified (and the jury so found) that a disputed will was not written on the typewriter by the deceased, but was written by another person who had bequeathed himself a $200,000.00 share of the estate. Sellers was called in to this case by Jones, McDougall & Benting, attorneys for the widow, who was contesting the will.

"Poison Death" Proved To Be Murder

One of the most sensational murder cases in history was the Lydia Southard (Bluebeardess) case. You will recall that she was apprehended in Honolulu after marrying Southard, a sailor, in Los Angeles. Sellers was called on long distance by President Chadwick of the Idaho State Life Insurance Co., and asked to go to Twin Falls, Idaho, to determine whether Mrs. Southard's fourth husband had really died from typhoid fever. Sellers' investigation proved that her husband had been murdered. This accusation led to revealing Mrs. Southard as a "female Bluebeard," who had caused the death of four husbands. The investigation which divulged these facts led into eight states. Mrs. Southard was tried and proven guilty.

Finger Prints Prove Guilt

The murderer of a sheepherder had evidently made his escape until Sellers investigated the scene of the struggle. He discovered a blood stained hammer and took the finger prints. The shoes of a suspect were found to fit the foot prints near the scene of the struggle and these bits of evidence proved the suspect's guilt.

Willis Trunk Murder Mystery

A claim of self-defense in the famous Los Angeles trunk murder case was contradicted by Sellers' testimony. He made tests with the revolver which killed Dr. Baldwin and proved that it would have been impossible for Mrs. Willis to have shot Dr. Baldwin while he was attacking her as she claimed. Chief Deputy Fricke and Deputy Dennison of the District Attorney's office of Los Angeles called upon Sellers to unearth this evidence and it proved an important part of the testimony which convicted her.

Expert Firearm Testimony

Each gun has individuality. It is posible, through Mr. Sellers' scientific apparatus, to identify the bullet with the gun it was shot from. In the Nelson Murder Case at Idaho Falls, Sellers was called in as an expert in firearms and ballistics. He proved that four out of five bullets had come from the gun of the accused. Prosecuting Attorney Crowley of Idaho Falls employed Mr. Sellers to make this scientific investigation.

Suicide or Murder?

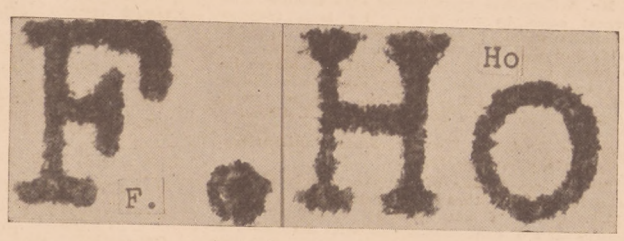
At 6 o'clock one morning, Mr. Sellers received a call from the New York Life Insurance Co., to investigate the death of Dr. H. Smith Wooley. It looked like murder—empty shells were scattered about and two shots had been fired through the heart. But Sellers proved that Dr. Wooley had caused his own death—arranging the scene so it would look like a murder. This proof required an expert analysis, a knowledge of the characteristics of firearms and a close investigation into the doctor's personal habits of thought and action. Sellers' proof saved $20,000.00 for the New York Life Insurance Company.

Your Finger prints Can Be Forged!

Clever crooks have misled police by leaving the fingerprints of other people on the scene of the crime, thus incriminating innocent persons. Mr. Sellers has evolved systems and methods of detecting forged prints.

Story Told By Blood Stains!

Often it is possible to trace the movements of the principles during a struggle, the position of the victim and reconstruct a crime from the blood spots. Many murder cases are branded as suicides, and vice versa, because no experts are called to examine these details. A drop of blood or a strand of hair tells a real story to the scientist. This blood drop was a determining factor in a sensational murder case.



Even Typewriting Can Be Detected

This microphotograph, made in the Sellers laboratory, was an important exhibit in one of the country's greatest murder mysteries. Note the much lighter line on the left side of the capital "H" and a much heavier line on the right hand of the capital "F." Sellers can identify typewriting the same as he can handwriting—proving beyond a doubt that a certain machine did or did not write certain characters. In some cases, Sellers has even proved that a certain person did the typing!

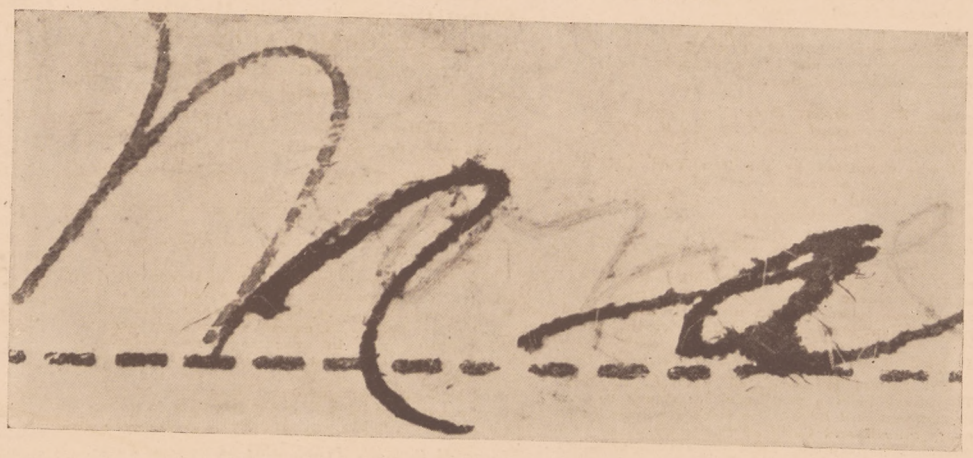
In trials, enlarged photographic copies can be distributed among jury and counsel for examination. Such photographs cannot be taken by the ordinary photographer. The laboratory of Mr. Sellers is equipped with the latest cameras, specially designed and corrected lenses, microscopes, chemicals and other equipment, so necessary to insure accurate results.

When life, property or honor is endangered, the stake is too great to entrust an investigation to inexperienced men. By employing the Sellers service, you can avail yourself of one of the most completely qualified crime detecting organizations in the entire country. When the time comes—'phone or write J. Clark Sellers, and this superior confidential investigation and intelligence service will begin to function at once. Mr. Sellers will be glad to consult with you regarding your case, without obligation.

(File for future reference)



Again the Micro photograph proves a forgery. This enlarged photo of a false claim for bonus, in the state of Washington, enabled Sellers to give judge and jury actual proof instead of a mere opinion.

I desire to extend the appreciation of this firm for your efficient services in the case of Rugles vs. Greenway in which you testified regarding the handwriting. You are a convincing witness and evinced a thorough knowledge of the subject. Your opinion and reasons given were substantiated by your enlarged photographs and Judge Hall, Superior Court Judge, in rendering his decision, stated he gave your opinion and your reasons much weight.—George B. Cole.

B. A. Cummings, Lawyer, Los Angeles, Calif., Former State Senator of Idaho.

During the eight years I have known Mr. Sellers I have found him to be reliable and a man possessing real ability in his profession. I do not hesitate to recommend him highly.—B. A. Cummings.

C. Douglas Smith, Long Beach, Calif.

It is with some pleasure that I write this letter relative to services you have performed for me during the past ten years. The work done by you is perhaps the best and most complete it has been my privilege to observe. During my two terms as public prosecutor in Idaho I frequently made use of your services in clearing up mysterious cases. I hope to call upon you again for assistance, and this in itself should be the best guarantee of the confidence that I repose in you.—C. Douglas Smith.

C. R. Clute, Trust Department, Bank of America, Los Angeles, Calif.

Mr. Sellers has been called into some of the largest cases in the West. He is a trained specialist whom I consider reliable and practical, and whose integrity is unquestioned. He is firmly established in the Northwest where he has other offices, and I am glad to see him establish offices in Los Angeles. We need men of his calibre in the Southwest.—C. R. Clute.

Clarence E. Long, Warden, State Penitentiary, Walla Walla, Washington.

Mr. Sellers is one of the most accomplished men in his line that I have had the pleasure of knowing. I am glad to vouch for Mr. Sellers and I can assure you that he has the respect of everyone who knows him.—C. E. Long, formerly Sheriff of Spokane Co., Wash.

John S. Coke, United States Attorney, Portland, Oregon.

I think it is due Mr. Sellers to say that our success in securing a conviction in this case rested almost wholly upon the careful and competent manner in which he analyzed and presented to the jury comparison of handwriting. You will, I am sure, find Mr. Sellers not only a capable man in his line but also an estimable and reliable gentleman.—John S. Coke.

John L. Slattery, United States District Attorney, Helena, Montana.

By reason of your extra work and the high class service rendered by you I can very conscientiously recommend the payment of your claim.—John L. Slattery.

Joseph H. Peterson, Pocatello, Idaho, Ex-Attorney General of Idaho, Special Attorney for N. Y. Life Ins. Co.

I was permitted by the New York Life Insurance Co., to avail myself of your services which I found of great value not only as an expert on the subject of gun shot wounds, powder burns, gun identification and other matters, but generally you were very helpful in the preparation and trial of the Dr. Woolley case. I very strongly recommend your services and I attribute the success that I had in the case above mentioned in no small measure to your efficient services.—Jos. H. Peterson.

L. V. Jenkins, Chief of Police, Portland, Ore.

Mr. Sellers is associated with L. S. May. They have been a wonderful assistance to our department and have done work for practically every Sheriff and Chief of Police in the Northwest. They are not in a class with ordinary detectives. Everything is done along scientific lines with them. Mr. Sellers is establishing an office in Los Angeles and I will appreciate any courtesies extended him.—L. V. Jenkins.

—This Crime Detecting Laboratory is YOURS!

On your desk now are documents which you probably suspect have been altered in some way. But you want proof. Turn them over to J. Clark Sellers and ask for a laboratory examination and report.

You are interested in a case where you believe the accused is not guilty, despite circumstantial evidence. Call in the J. Clark Sellers organization and every angle of the case will be subjected to the searching scrutiny of a thoroughly experienced specialist. In fully equipped laboratories the evidence will be subjected to scientific analysis. The truth will be discovered.

Science has developed ways to detect the most carefully hidden crime. Little details that escape the eye of the untrained furnish a complete story of the crime for the scientific criminologist. Finger prints, a stray hair, a slight waver of the pen in writing, a blood stain, a spent bullet—all these tell volumes when examined in the laboratories.

The J. Clark Sellers organization is firmly established in the Northwest, with officers in principal cities. Ten years ago Mr. Sellers joined forces with the eminent western criminologist, Luke S. May, and opened offices in Salt Lake City, Pocatello, Idaho; Portland, Oregon; and Seattle, Washington. Mr. Sellers is vice-president and general superintendent of the Revelare International Secret Service, of which Mr. May is president, with headquarters at Seattle, Washington. And now Mr. Sellers has established a fully equipped office in Los Angeles. Your call for help gets the personal attention, not of some subordinate or inexperienced person, but of J. Clark Sellers himself. He is ready to help you—at any time of the day or night.

C. E. Crowley, Prosecuting Attorney, Idaho Falls, Idaho.

Guy Nelson and Clyde Nelson were convicted of first degree murder and received life sentence today. I know the assistance rendered me by Mr. Sellers in examining and reporting on exhibits, and in procuring new evidence was a material factor in securing this conviction. I heartily recommend the methods used by Mr. Sellers, and if I have another case of the same kind I would not feel safe in going to trial without his assistance.—C. E. Crowley.

Isaac McDougall, Prosecuting Attorney, Pocatello, Idaho.

I wish to commend you for the work you have done for this office during the past two years and especially your work in the Valentine Blackmail case. Your work in preparing the various exhibits and the comparisons which you made forced this case to a successful conclusion. I can unhesitatingly say that your work in this case is one of the best pieces of "Questioned Document" work I have ever witnessed.—Isaac McDougall.

Besides these letters, our files contain enthusiastic letters of appreciation from Chiefs of Police, Detective Department Heads, Presidents of Banks and large corporations, government officials and scores of other prominent men.
